Preface to the edition

Joseph Haydn's contribution to the piano music of classical music is very significant both in qualitative and in quantitative terms. The reception of his works, however, is often behind those of Mozart and Beethoven. He wrote more than 60 piano sonatas, the first ones were written for harpsichord or clavichord, and the later ones for the pianoforte. His piano works were a pioneer for all piano compositions from classical to modern.

Our edition consists of 5 volumes and contains all works written by Joseph Haydn for pianoforte sorted by genre and Hoboken number:

Piano pieces I (Variations, Fantasy) , Piano pieces II (Marches, Dances), Sonatas I-III

There are many piano pieces, which are declared as Haydn's piano music, although they are transcriptions from other Haydn works. Therefore, in addition to the piano works, some well-known transcriptions for the pianoforte from works by Joseph Haydn are included in the edition (volume I: transcriptions from Haydn symphonies, volume II: transcriptions from orchestral works, chamber music and operas by Haydn).

The edition contains all the 60 sonatas by J. Haydn, arranged by Hoboken number, which also have no proof of the origin, except fragments and Hob.XVI:17 (by Johann Gottfried Schwanenberger). The basis is the first editions and manuscripts of Haydn.
